

SummerReads

Middle School

Summer 2019

Hello Pike Middle School Students!

Welcome to this year's edition of SummerReads, a list of reading ideas with a wide variety of genres and formats chosen especially for you. We update SummerReads each year with new titles, student favorites, and a commitment to sharing stories by all kinds of authors and illustrators.

Visit the library's website (pikeschool.org/academics/library) for the online version of SummerReads and more lists of book suggestions. During the summer, we will be sharing more ideas for reading fun on our literature blog, Open Books, Open Minds. Your family can subscribe at <http://blogs.pikeschool.org/openbook/> to get the latest updates.

Your local public library is a great place to check out this summer, either in person or online. This summer's theme, "A Universe of Stories," celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 moon landing. Libraries around the country are planning fantastic science programs.

Summer is an exciting season. We hope you enjoy every minute.

Recommended by Grade 5 Students!

Iron Thunder by Avi

~ review by Alex

Are you interested in the Revolutionary War? Ben, a boy in a poor family, goes on a ship in the adventure of a lifetime. In this book, there's bravery, gold coins, and a battle.

Are You There, God? It's Me, Margaret by Judy Blume

~ review by Camille

Margaret talks with God all the time. Will her faith help her at a new school and with friends? I enjoyed the different traits of each character.

Shortstop from Tokyo by Matt Christopher

~ review by Hunter

Sam Suzuki is a very good shortstop from Tokyo. Stogie doesn't want Sam to take his place at short. The author shows good details about characters' thoughts and feelings.

License to Thrill (Genius Files series) by Dan Gutman

~ review by Reese

Do you like action, ciphers, and snakes? If you're one of those people who hate reading but love explosions and other cool stuff then I recommend this book.

Checked by Cynthia Kadohata

~ review by Julia

Conor's life is dedicated to hockey. When something tragic happens to his dog, Sinbad, Conor decides to take a break from hockey to pay for Sinbad's care.

The Merchant of Death (Pendragon series) by D.J. MacHale

~ review by Jaelyn

This fantasy is incredibly exciting, with fight scenes in a parallel universe you've never imagined before. MacHale offers a book full of magic, suspense, love, betrayal, and laughs.

The Candy Shop Wars by Brandon Mull

~ review by Samara

One day, Nate, Trevor, Pigeon and Summer decide to get candy from a store that could change their life forever. This book is filled with humor, mystery, curiosity...and magic.

La Belle Sauvage by Phillip Pullman

~ review by Ishaan

I liked the action and suspense, and how when you think something is going to happen the opposite does. I also liked the British style that is very different.

Holes by Louis Sachar

~ review by Lorenzo

"The second hole is the hardest," X-ray said to Stanley, who is at a camp for kids who have done bad things. In this story, the author adds events that keep changing your predictions.

Stick Cat: A Tale of Two Kitties by Tom Watson

~ review by Haley

Why does Edith think that she's so smart, when Stick Cat is way smarter? I liked that the author would build up tension and then say something funny.

Millicent Min, Girl Genius by Lisa Yee

~ review by Hazel

"I have been accused of being an overachiever and a compulsive perfectionist, like those are bad things." The author made every page of the book humorous and exciting.

Start a Summer Book Club!

There are so many fabulous stories that take place in summertime. We've listed some of our favorites below that are perfect for sharing with family and friends. Why not start a book club to read together and share your ideas? Don't forget the snacks!

All books are also available on audio.

The Penderwicks: A Summer Tale of Four Sisters, Two Rabbits, and a Very Interesting Boy by Jeanne Birdsall, 2005.

Spending the summer at a cottage in the Berkshires sounds like heaven to Rosalind, Skye, Jane, and Batty, and they quickly make friends with Jeffrey – until his snobby mother intervenes. Enjoy more adventures with the Penderwicks in the rest of the series.

Crunch by Leslie Connor, 2010.

Dewey and his siblings have a major problem: there's a nationwide fuel shortage, and his parents aren't able to return home to run the family bike-repair business. On the flip side, business has never been better – since no one can buy gas, bikes are essential transportation, even on the Turnpike!

Dead End in Norvelt by Jack Gantos. 2012 Newbery Medal winner.

It's the summer of 1962, and Jack has just been grounded for the entire summer for firing a World War II rifle. That's not going to stop this crazy kid from getting into more trouble as he tries to solve the mystery of why the town's elderly women are dying like flies.

Macy McMillan and the Rainbow Goddess by Shari Green. 2018 Schneider Award winner.

Macy's got to face up to a lot of challenges as 6th grade comes to an end: Mom is getting re-married, their new "family" has to move, and to top it off, she has to help an elderly neighbor pack for a move of her own. This novel is told in verse, making it a quick read.

The Parker Inheritance by Varian Johnson. A 2019 Coretta Scott King Honor book.

While spending the summer in her mother's South Carolina home town, Candice discovers a letter from her dead grandmother detailing a historical mystery involving an illegal tennis match, racism, and a lot of money. Will she and her new friend Brandon find answers? This complex novel shifts between the past and the present, and offers plenty of ideas to discuss.

The Family Fletcher Takes Rock Island by Dana Alison Levy, 2016.

Sam, Jax, Eli, and Frog, along with their dads, can't wait for the annual vacation to their beloved New England island. Along with decisions about which ice cream to buy, there are new neighbors to meet, and a mystery surrounding the nearby lighthouse to solve.
